

THE CYCLORAMA.

MR. E. C. MACFARLANE'S
OPINION ABOUT IT.It is to be One of the Chief Attractions of the World's Fair.

The Cyclorama of the Volcano of Kilauea is attracting a great deal of attention in Chicago at present, and according to all accounts it promises to be one of the chief attractions of the fair.

Mr. E. C. Macfarlane, who has lately returned from the United States, is enthusiastic over the project and when seen by an ADVERTISER reporter yesterday he unhesitatingly said as follows:

"About the nineteenth of March on my way through from New York I stopped at Chicago because I was particularly interested in seeing the Cyclorama of the Volcano.

"I spent the whole day at the grounds but the most of the day was utilized in examining the work already completed on the Cyclorama.

"Mr. Burridge, the artist, was found very busily engaged with quite a force of assistants and the work was almost completed.

"I had formed the liveliest anticipations of Mr. Burridge's efforts, but I was not prepared for such a realistic representation of the volcano. I am satisfied that it is to be one of the chief attractions at the Exposition grounds, if not the chief one.

"I consider the work artistic in the extreme and devoid of all tricky effects. The artist has been very painstaking in all the drawing and has elaborated with great thoroughness all the detail work."

Mr. Macfarlane then spoke in the highest terms of the work of Mr. Burridge, and expressed himself to the effect that if the returns of the cyclorama were at all satisfactory that the stockholders could well afford to make him a very substantial present.

Mr. Macfarlane has also a word of encouragement for the stockholders, believing that the cyclorama will be one of the great features of the Exposition, as one of the officers in the Director-General's department assured him that the total receipts from the cyclorama were placed in excess of $300,000.

As the percentage due the Exposition people is 33 1/3 per cent. of the gross profits it will be seen that the neat sum of $200,000 will be available for dividends after deducting expenses.

The fact that Mr. Macfarlane has been endeavoring to buy a block of the stock at 50 per cent. premium is an index of the present value of the cyclorama shares.

In speaking of some of the realistic mechanical effects of the cyclorama Mr. Macfarlane said that representations of running lava, steam jets, blow holes, etc., will add very materially to the realism of the scene; in short, the work of Mr. Burridge is a masterpiece in its entirety, and undoubtedly it will prove to be one of the best advertising schemes for the encouragement of tourist travel to these islands that could have been conceived.

In speaking of the location of the cyclorama, Mr. Macfarlane said that many people had the wrong idea. He said that the building is situated in the midway Plaisance, a street leading to the Exposition grounds proper, and on which villages are located representing town, hamlets, etc., from European and other foreign countries. The cyclorama is situated at the lower end of this thoroughfare, and is most advantageously located. In speaking of the Volcano House affairs, Mr. Macfarlane said that for the last three months business was very encouraging. Mr. Lee will leave shortly for Chicago to make a flying trip; but in all probability he will not be absent long. In the meantime Mr. Macfarlane intends to make a trip to the Volcano for the purpose of making a provisional arrangement regarding the management of the hotel, and to prepare a business statement of the condition of the company preparatory to calling a meeting of the stockholders.

Not Prejudiced.

Washington dispatches revive the story that Blount has gone to Hawaii prejudiced against annexation, and that as delay has given an opportunity for foreign interests to work up sentiment against it, he is likely to report accordingly. The statement regarding prejudice has been already authoritatively denied. The action of foreign interests against annexation ought to dispose him, an American, in its favor. We can only wait and hope. If he is expected back three weeks hence the Senate can well afford to wait his return and settle the matter without further delay.—[S. F. Bulletin.]

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE.

It Will be the Longest of the Century.

The total eclipse of the sun, which occurs on April 16th, is an important one, and will be quite extensively observed. Prof. Schaeberle, of the Lick Observatory, with a companion and a full outfit for photographing the corona in various ways, has gone to Chile, where the eclipse occurs in the morning. The station will be fifty or sixty miles inland from Huasco, and at an elevation of 4000 to 5000 feet among the foothills in order to get above the haze and fog that usually overhang the coast. Mr. Bailey, from the Harvard College Observatory, will also have a small party in the same neighborhood. This work, also, will be mainly photographic. It is understood that the Chilean Government will also send a party; but we have no information as to details. The duration of the eclipse in Chile will be about three and a half minutes, and the weather prospects are fair. The only party in the interior of the continent, so far as we have heard, will be at Rosario de la Frontera, near the northern boundary of the Argentine Republic, not very far from Tucuman. This party is from the National Observatory at Cordova, and is headed by Mr. Thorne, the successor of Dr. Gould in the directorship of that observatory. The weather prospects are rather doubtful. Where the track of central eclipse passes into the Atlantic, in 3 deg. south latitude, not far from Ceara, there will be an English photographic party under the charge of Mr. Taylor. The Brazilian National Observatory of Rio Janeiro will probably also have a party in the field, and the Brazilian Government has offered the services of a gunboat to transport from Pernambuco any foreign astronomers who may wish to reach the station; probably there will be several such, though the probabilities as to clear weather are rather unfavorable, April being in the rainy season. The most important stations are in Africa, where the eclipse track enters the continent in Senegambia a little south of Cape Verde. The French will have a large Government party, with some private auxiliaries at Joal on the coast; and the English will have another still larger party at Fundum, some distance inland on the Salum River. At these African stations the duration of the eclipse will be over four minutes, and the weather is almost certain to be clear. There is every reason to expect that the observations will be successful and valuable, as the observers are all experienced, and their outfit is very complete, including spectroscopic, photometric and polariscopic apparatus as well as photographic.—[N. Y. Independent.]
